

WE'RE HIRING

JOIN THE PASCOM TEAM AS A QUALITY ASSURANCE ENGINEER

We are looking for ambitious Quality Assurance Testers with a technical background to join our team. The ideal candidate(s) will be someone who is a lateral thinker with a focus on VoIP, open-source software and web technologies, who will dive right into their work and balance different tasks equally when working together with our international team to further develop our pascom phone system.

Technical experience and skills

- Adequate technical background or previous experience
- Basic knowledge of TestRail (or any other tool for Quality Assurance)
- Basic knowledge of API testing
- General networking knowledge
- Ready to test desktop, mobile and web apps
- Experience using the GIT versioning system (or similar control systems)
- Familiar with the Asterisk[®] Open-Source PBX software
- Experience with some of the following technologies is not essential but is advantageous: Linux OS, Jira ticket system, SIP protocol, VoIP Provisioning, VMware, Hyper-V or equivalent, Automation testing
- Administration skills are desirable

You know you're the right fit when

- You put quality and knowledge first
- You are a learning-driven person
- You are crazy about the latest cutting-edge tech, and you are not technology-specific
- You want to understand the business context and logic behind the software solution
- You are not afraid to try something new and find new ways to improve your work
- You are a good team player

What makes life at pascom fun and exciting

- Working with all the latest in real-time communication technologies
- Working on an actual product that lives and grows
- Working with a highly experienced international team of IT experts
- No contact with the clients (development is our main concern)
- No overtime, short deadlines and unbearable pressure
- Different types of paid bonuses
- Work from home options
- Further your education with company-sponsored qualifications, courses, & seminars
- Access to a large knowledge base and digital library of professional books
- Exciting trips to various company offices
- Delicious lunches every day with the team

Contact us today: job@pascom.net